

RED SNAPPER LEARNING NATIONAL INVESTIGATORS' EXAM STUDY SUPPORT

Flexible Delivery

We provide a support service, which is a mix of virtual, e-learning and face-to-face delivery formats. Our core-learning aides will be available 24 hours a day seven days a week, namely our innovative NIE e-learning platform www.PoliceRevision.com and our 'Ask-a-Tutor' digital question and answer service.

Weekly virtual and face-to-face events will be available at different times across units of single weeks to accommodate early and late starts.

Supporting a Diverse Candidate Base

The consistent historic pass rate for the exam is approximately 50%. Given the above, we believe it is critical to success to avoid a one-size-fits all approach.

RSL will provide a service in which there is an early segmentation of candidate groups in terms of abilities. We stream candidates into three core groups and provide different types and intensity of support for each group.

Subject Matter Expert Mentors:

Our handpicked team of content managers, tutors and mentors are experts in the NIE syllabus.

They will be supported by key speakers such Chief Constable John BOUCHTER who will deliver end of programme talks to inspire the candidates to bring their best selves to the final examination.

Engaging and Modern Format

Our e-learning platform utilises audio, video and a text-based format to engage the modern learner.

The Police Revision platform is designed to contextualise complex concepts in digestible, easy to understand segments which has proven invaluable to achieving embedded understanding and lifelong learning.

Our Approach:

RSL take the approach that that every candidate is capable of passing the NIE exam.

Critical to shaping our service architecture is the knowledge that each year approximately half of all candidates pass the exam using standard study aides.

Central to our approach will be the use of mock exam assessments to segment each cohort into three streams of candidates.

All candidates will be mandated to complete a mock exam assessment in week four and then in week eight. The results of the mock exam assessment in week four will direct the initial streaming outcome. The results of the week eight mock exam assessment will direct further movement of candidates from one stream to another based on the second assessment outcome.

Our approach will allocate finite resources in a smart way to focus more resource on candidates, who require a greater level of support to pass, whilst providing the correct level of support for the approximate 50% of candidates who pass with the standard level of support.

All candidates will have the benefit of attending two mock exams in a range of formats/settings, either virtually and/or held at our central London office on weekdays, evenings and weekends.

The Streams:

Stream 1 receive our e-learning platform; our 'Ask-a-Tutor' digital question and answer service and attend monthly webinars.

Streams 2 receive our e-learning platform; our 'Ask-a-Tutor' digital question and answer service, attend monthly webinars and attend four virtual classroom events.

Stream 3 receive our e-learning platform; our 'Ask-a-Tutor' digital question and answer service, attend monthly webinars, attend four virtual classroom events and will be allocated a one-on-one mentor tutor.

Current Projects

Metropolitan Police Service (MPS)

RSL are currently working with the Metropolitan Police Service (MPS) having recently won the contract to provide NIE support for the next 3 years. The MPS have taken the full support package for all of their NIE candidates, and we have been using our streaming process to ensure the right support is targeted at the candidates in line with their individual needs.
